

The Development and Implementations of the Peacebuilding Process of Reconciliation to Develop Political Will

Reconciliation Leaders facilitate the Peacebuilding Process of Reconciliation to Develop Political Will as it evolves into a Global Mediation and Reconciliation Service for the Global Problematique

“I have carried my calling in the United Nations for twenty-five years as the Celebration model evolved into the Peacebuilding Process of Reconciliation to Develop Political Will (Peacebuilding Process) that is used in local, national and international settings as a way to use soul force not armed force. Reconciliation Leaders are the trained facilitators for the Peacebuilding Process helping people most affected by a challenge to find their own solution. In every Peacebuilding Process, coalitions for the common good support political action (in the spirit of Rousseau’s political philosophy to empower “We the peoples in UN Charter). In 1999, The Peacebuilding Process evolved into a Global Mediation and Reconciliation Service for the global problematique, in invited presentations in 1999 at the Hague Appeal for Peace and the State of the World Forum.

Politician and political will was redefined in my master’s degree (Lesley University 1993) as Reconciliation Leader and instrument of peace for the common good. The global problematique is the condition resulting from the unwillingness of states to resolve issues due to ‘self-interest’ in state sovereignty. Political action in every intervention refers to intention to work for the common good.”
